The Kapoda table base makes a bold design statement with its distinctive column shape and brings a strong visual presence to restaurants, hotels, and modern contract spaces. Whether used as a dining table or a standing table, the model can be combined with a wide variety of tabletop shapes and sizes, allowing it to adapt flexibly to different interior concepts. The base and column are made of black powder-coated steel, offering a robust, scratch-resistant, and easy-care surface. This makes Kapoda equally suitable for demanding indoor and outdoor use. Depending on the version, the base also supports generous round tabletops with diameters of up to 150 cm while providing a stable foundation for everyday professional use. The result is a table that skillfully combines functionality, durability, and expressive design.

- Distinctive column shape: Kapoda makes a bold design statement in restaurants, hotels, and contract spaces
- Versatile combination options: The base is compatible with different tabletop shapes and sizes
- Built for everyday use: Black powder-coated steel is scratch-resistant, easy to maintain, and suitable for both indoor and outdoor use
